A TIKI LIFE, A GOOD LIFE

When you step into a Tiki bar you're entering a world of escapism. A paradise island where you can feel the ocean breeze through your half opened Aloha shirt.

One of the earliest and best-known Tiki bars was named "Don the Beachcomber" and was created in Hollywood in 1934 by Ernest Raymond Beaumont Gantt (aka "Donn Beach"). An adventurer who made some money bootlegging rum during Prohibition and sailed the Polynesian seas, brought home his first impressions and decorated his bar in a tropical vein. Donn Beach was the first to mix flavored rums and fresh fruit juices with rum.

Another famous bar was "Trader Vic's" created by Victor "Trader Vic" Bergeron in Oakland, California. The Mai Tai is considered to be the quintessential Tiki cocktail and was concocted at the original Trader Vic's in 1944. Legend has it that "Trader" tasted it one afternoon for some friends who were visiting from Tahiti. One of them tasted it and cried out: "Maita'i roa a'e!" ("Out of this world! The best"). The Mai Tai was also prominently featured in the Elvis Presley film "Blue Hawaii".

VaVoom Tiki Room, the first and only Tiki bar in The Hague, Holland, is a good place to loosen up, leave the world outside and let the rum wash the worries away.

In the 50's and 60's Americans escaped from the Cold War to seek some paradise in Tiki Bars. Modern days call for a different kind of escapism. With social media being what it is, we can gratefully escape from our digital drains in the tropical breeze of tiki culture.
